The dividend payout and composition of currency-hedged share classes are as follows:

The hedging strategy of the currency-hedged share classes aims at mitigating the risk of currency fluctuation against the base currency of the respective funds. Due to execution of the hedging strategy and its technical impact, the composition of dividends (as between net distributable income and capital) may vary from that of the base currency share classes. Investors in the currency-hedged share classes may refer to the NAV and dividend composition of the base currency share classes of the respective funds for a representative illustration of the performance of their investment.

Warning: Please note that a positive distribution yield does not imply a positive return. Investors should not make any investment decision solely based on information contained in the table above. You should read the relevant offering document (including the key facts statement) of the fund for further details including the risk factors.

* "Capital" includes unrealised capital gain (if any) and may not necessary be equivalent to the investors' original investments. "Net distributable income" means the net investment income (i.e. dividend income, interest income and coupons from bonds, net of fees and expenses) attributable to the relevant share class and may also include net realised gains (if any) based on unaudited management accounts for the financial year. However, "net distributable income" does not include net unrealised gains. "Net distributable income" that has been accrued as at the end of a financial year and is declared and paid as dividends at the next distribution date immediately after that financial year end could be treated as "net distributable income" in respect of that financial year. However, "net distributable income" which has been accrued as at the end of a financial year but is not declared and paid as dividends at the next distribution date immediately after that financial year end should be included as "capital" for the next financial year.
